

SKILL PREDICTION UNOFFICIAL

Introduction

Simulates skills client-side, eliminating ping-based delays and animation lock.

Does this mean my ping will effectively be lower?

No. What the module does is attempt to avoid the restrains caused by ping on skills and so letting the player interact with skills the way it's intended to be. Please do remember that skill emulation isn't perfect(or can be due to the lack of server side support) and the module's accuracy is heavily affected by the user's network quality.

What about PvP, does it work with no affairs?

While the module does support PvP in certain areas it doesn't fully do it or does it perfectly manage player's position as per the server will expect, it's not recommended for this purpose. Furthermore, the module can be deactivated in-game via accesing the command `sp off`, more info can be found in skill-prediction\docs\commands.pdf locally or hosted here.

Notes:

- By default and when using "active" ping method the ingame ping stats will instead of showing your framerate + ping delay, show the delay provided by only framerate.
- It can get you banned due to possible desync and further users report. Use at own risk

Installation

1. Download the module via clicking in the button Clone or Download and then on Download Zip
2. Uncompress and place the resulting folder in `Tera-proxy\bin\node_modules` and you're set.

Notes:

- It's strongly recommended that you utilize the module in conjunction with Caali's proxy version since that will let the module update itself and have the needed tera-data available. Its can be found on his discord server.

Usage

The module by itself doesn't require you to do anything in game to then make use of it. It's instead suggested that you do take a look at users documentation in the folder `skill-prediction\docs\` locally or hosted in the wiki.

Troubleshooting

Refer to the troubleshooting section in the wiki (not developed yet). Alternatively, help will provided in Caali's Proxy and Private server development discord.

Awakening update

With awakening adding a marginal amount of skills and new interactions among them(including new types of these) it's fair to say that a lot of skills will not fully work or work at all for a while until it gets addressed. If you suffer from this, it's for the moment suggested to disable the issueing skill. If you wanna help out with these please do open one in SP Issues.
